Man Shot to Death In Quarrel at Decoto

NEW POLICE PATROL IS PLANNED FOR TOWNSHIP

Constable O. W. Ebright To Be Assisted By Deputy Sheriff

As a result of recent protests made concerning the disregard for law and order in the Niles area and other sections of Washington township, and the seeming inability of Constable Ebright to handle the situation satisfactorily, a new system of patrolling southern Alameda county is planned by the sheriff's office, it was learned this week.

Under the plan, Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch, formerly in Pleasanton, will be assigned to Washington township with the view of instilling into the rowdy element some respect for police authority, for which recently, apparently, they have had none.

Deputy Sheriff L. E. Van Patten will be on duty in Pleasanton and Murray township to be assitted by Constable Al Vervais, of Pleasanton, according to the plan. Constable Mark Garbini, of Livermore, will act as bailiff for the justice courts at Livermore and Pleasanton and have charge of serving all civil papers there, while Constable Tom Silva, of Centerville, will serve as bailiff in the Niles and Centerville courts and serve all civil papers, Ebright being relieved of this particular line of activity.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. MARIA COIT

Last rites for Mrs. Maria F. Coit, who died at her home on the Alvarado Creek road Thursday morning, were held at the Corpus Christi church, Niles, Saturday morning with Father McCaul officiating.

Services for the deceased also held at the family home. Mrs. Coit was a native of the Azores Islands and was born there seventy years ago. She was the wife of the late Manuel Coit. The deceased was a member of the S. P. R. S. I. lodge at Alvarado.

Burial was made in the Centerville Holy Ghost cemetery.

Niles Library To Be Open Saturdays, Closed Fridays

Announcement was made this week that the Niles library will be closed on Friday instead of Saturdays, as has been the case in the past. This will become effective October 7.

TRIES TO COLLECT MONEY; GETS BLACK EYE

John F. Silva, of Centerville, entered the Niles justice court Friday to file a small claims case involving $60, alleged to have been due him. A few hours later he returned with a discolered eye and a badly swollen face to enter a charge of battery against John and Mary Machado, who were the defendants in the proposed small claims case.

The battery charge arose when Silva learned from Judge J. A. Silva that $50 was the maximum sum of money that could be involved in a small claims case court. He was advised to make an attempt to come to an agreement with the said debtors.

When Silva went to the Stevenson ranch near Centerville where the Machados reside and put the question of settlement, he claims the woman seized a club and struck him across the face, while the man blackened his eye with his fist.

The Machados were brought into the Niles court Tuesday afternoon and plead not guilty to the battery charge. They will stand court trial Friday afternoon.

CASE ADVANCED

The drunken driving case of Emil Christenson, of Oakland, has been advanced to Friday, October 14, in the Niles justice court. The complaining witness has not yet fully recovered from injuries received in the accident for which the defendant was arrested, and the district attorney's office also is awaiting the results of Christenson's trial on a hit and run charge which takes place next week in Oakland.

BOX FACTORY AT NILES CLOSES FOR WEEK

Completion of present orders and a large surplus of stock on hand resulted in the closing of the International Wood Products box factory at Niles Friday night. The plant will remain closed for approximately a week, according to present plans.

The box factory has been operating steadily throughout the year, providing employment for approximately 100 men.

Alleged Killer Held At Oakland County Jail

An alleged quarrel over a sum of money resulted in the shooting to death of Andreas Corrales, 42, a Decoto rancher, at the home of Jose Arribas in Decoto Saturday night. Arribas is said to have inflicting with a revolver a wound that caused Corrales' death in the Highland hospital Sunday morning.

Arribas was arrested shortly after the shooting by Constable Tom Silva, of Centerville, who was called to the scene. After being shot above the heart, Corrales staggered to the home of friends nearby who notified officers. He was rushed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Upon first questioning, Arribas denied the shooting but later claimed that Corrales attacked him with a knife and that he fired in self defense, according to Constable Silva. The constable and other county officers who investigated searched the house and Arribas but failed to find any knife.

It is reported that Corrales signed a written statement before he died stating that Arribas did the shooting. The accused is being held at the county jail in Oakland along with a companion, Tony Gomez in custody as a material witness.

It is thought that a first degree murder charge will be placed against Arribas.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

Breed On The Right Trail

Senator Arthur H. Breed, distinguished legislator from Alameda county, believes the way to navigate is to navigate. In other words, the way to cut taxes is to cut 'em and let the different departments of government argue about the matter afterwards, getting along the best they can on reduced budgets.

Senator Breed is sponsoring a bill which will be introduced in the next session of the legislature, cutting appropriations for various governmental departments, including the University of California and the public schools, twenty per cent. He points out that all business concerns, the earnings on real estate, and the returns from agriculture and horticulture have dwindled one-fifth, at least, and in most cases have disappeared altogether. It is the opinion of most everyone, says Breed, that a twenty per cent cut is not enough, but a start will be made at that figure.

Appropriations, this year, he says, will be made upon the basis of the ability of the taxpayer to pay. The state finances are on the road to ruin. Bankruptcy for California is not a wild idea of some communist, but a very probable consequence if some radical step is not taken at once to curb public expenditures.

Breed, like many other prominent men, is convinced that the school system is largely responsible for the financial chaos into which our government is now plunged.

That is easy to believe. We do not have to go away from home to hear this news. We do not have to travel to Sacramento or Berkeley to learn first hand, and get concrete instances of shameful squandering of school funds. Right here in Washington township thousands of dollars are being thrown away on the furbelows of education. Departments are created for no other purpose, apparently, than to give a soft job to some friend or relative of the school board.

The teaching of music is very well in good times when the taxpayer can afford this cultural education for his children. At this time it is absurd—a cruel imposition on the oppressed property owner of this school district. Teaching aviation at the night school is another incident of the utter disregard of school attaches and the present school board for the plight of Washington township taxpayers in this time of economic debacle.

Several thousand dollars a year are being thrown away on a printing department, that has no more reason for existence than two tails on an alley cat. Perhaps there is no other school in the United States in the same class with that of the Centerville institution that "boasts" of such a department in their curriculum. The thing has been going on for a number of years, why, no one seems to know, unless it was to create a job for the head of this department. Never has a single student taken up printing after school days came to a close. Why, it is not for us to say. Perhaps the training did not fit them for the practical application of the trade, or maybe it was just one of those peculiar things that no one can explain. But the cost has gone on—about $2700 a year in salary, and thousands of more dollars in equipment and upkeep.

The whole thing is an indictment of the intelligence and efficiency of the school administration. Probably $25,000 has been figuratively thrown out of the windows of the composing rooms at the high school plant. And yet, even after the board has had the matter called to its attention, with brazen disregard of the proprieties of the times, they have allowed the abuse to go on. But that is not strange. No effort is being made to correct mistakes, and weed out unnecessary expenses.

The whole attitude of the school board, backed up by the principal, is, "the taxpayer be damned!"

Where Is My Wandering Road Tonight?

The road through the California Nursery grounds seems to be in status quo—a h-l of a fix. We were told months ago that the matter would come up for judicial settlement in just a few days, maybe tomorrow. In August we were told that the case would be heard the latter part of the month. We have no definite word now from any one just when the much discussed road will finally reach the last lap of its many years' race around the political circuit.

Maybe the Niles Chamber of Commerce will take this matter up for discussion. It will form an interesting subject during the year 1932-33.

Hearst Papers And Parole Board

It has not been often that we could conscientiously endorse a Hearst policy. However, it is with considerable pleasure that we wish to commend California Hearst papers in their movement to curb abuses of the state parole board. These publications reach hundreds of thousands of readers and the powerful indictment presented against indiscriminate paroles constantly being issued to dangerous criminals, will, we believe, bring the board to a little closer realization of its duties to the average law-abiding citizen of California.

The writer has severely arraigned the parole board on a number of occasions, covering a period of seven years, beginning with the parole of Big Mutch, the notorious bunco king, let loose secretly by Friend Richardson's appointees. The swindler was seen on the streets by a reporter, whose revealing story was the first news the public had that this heart-

SPEAKER DIRECTS ATTACK AGAINST MORTGAGE BILL AT NILES CHAMBER MEET

Passage of Initiative Measure Seen as Menace to Real Estate Loans

Proposition No. 3, an initiative measure concerning "Foreclosure of Mortgages and Trust Deeds," and to be voted on by the people of California at the November election, was vigorously scored by Mortimor Smith, Oakland attorney, in an address to the Niles Chamber of Commerce at the regular luncheon Monday noon. A large and interested audience heard the speaker.

Terming the measure as one that would result only in a benefit to lawyers, Smith said passage of the bill would upset "the entire state financial system and create an economic wrong that would take years to overcome."

The greatest evil of the proposition, which is sponsored by a lawyers' organization in Los Angeles, according to the speaker, is that it would greatly reduce the amount of loans a borrower could receive on real estate security, and thus the city and country land would suffer immeasurably. Under the proposed bill's provisions, all loans on real estate, etc., will have to be taken through a court procedure that would make it more difficult for a lender to receive his money back, Smith stated in pointing out that the lender, who always protects himself, would thus decrease the amount of a loan made upon security, or increase the interest rate charged.

The increased expenses of the involved litigation processes, which under the bill would have to be borne by the the lender, also would be considered when the loan is made and add to the difficulty, the speaker pointed out. Under the present deed of trust system, this court procedure is unnecessary.

In Smith's opinion, a measure of this nature should never be of the initiative type because of involved technical characteristics which the average layman cannot understand. The bill had been defeated in the legislature by those

many homes have light — that's ruinous to eyes!

No one intentionally wants to have poor lighting in the home, especially when young folks must study and read at night. But many people do go on living with light that is ruinous to eyes.

There is for example the very faulty belief that light must come from over the left shoulder. No one knows just how such an idea started.. but it's all wrong. Good light to read by should come from all around; abundant light, not mere brightness; plentiful light, broken-up, softened and diffused.

Unshaded lamps, no matter how bright they may seem, are almost as far behind the times as clustered candle light or coal oil lamps.

Use plenty of light from globes of sufficient wattage, shade them properly and arrange them to light the whole room and you are employing the best use of modern lighting. The comfort you will get from such use of light will surprise you, especially if you have been using light that glares and tires the eyes. Also the low cost of good lighting will surprise you. The cost of light, both for lamps and for current, has been going down for more than fifteen years.

Make a test and see how great a comfort abundant light can be and how fine a preservative it is of eyesight and eye usefulness. Light the whole room, have light that fills the room and comforts the eyes. Forget about old notions such as spotting light from over the left shoulder.

Approximately $450,000 Spent for Relief in Last Three Months

Needy families throughout southern Alameda county have received a total of fifty tons of flour manufactured from surplus wheat in possession of the federal farm board, it was announced Saturday by Mrs. Lulu Boyd Stephens, executive secretary of the Southern Alameda County Welfare Board, which was in charge of the distribution.

Of this amount more than forty tons were distributed in the Hayward district. The flour has been passed out to various welfare agencies throughout the country by the American Red Cross, intrusted by the government with the general distribution.

The executive secretary also reported that the welfare board has expended a total of approximatly $19,300 in county funds for relief of the needy in southern Alameda county during the past two and a half months. County road workers were given $7264 of that sum at $24 per week.

During that period of time, no man received more than two weeks' work and some only one week. The $24 is supposed to be spent in payment of rent, gas, light and water bills.

Nearly $450,000 has been expended by the county for indigent relief in less than three months of the fiscal year, according to reports from Oakland. This is nearly half of the total amount appropriated in the budget of the entire year. In addition the county spent in that time from its good roads fund a total of $82,020 to pay indigent able bodied men needing relief.

FOOD VALUE OF RICE STRESSED BY STORE HEAD

The American people have been slow to recognize the wonderful value of rice as a food. While rice is an almost unknown quantity to us, over one-half of the world's population use it for their chief sustenance.

"Californians, especially, should eat more rice," states R. W. Doe, executive of Safeway Stores. "In our own state we have approximately 110,00 acres in rice and our 1932 crop will be over three million bags. Not only is rice of a very high food value, but it is exceptionally economical and those who must watch their budget would accomplish much by serving rice often as a main dish as well as using it incidently in their cooking." In an effort to acquaint people with the value of rice and the various ways of preparing and serving it, Mr. Doe says the Safeway Stores and affiliated companies have cooperated with the California Rice Growers by featuring California-Japanese rice in their stores, newspaper ads and radio programs.

WASHINGTONIANS DROP GILROY TILT BY 26 TO 0 SCORE

Jim Booras Is Shining Light In Cornhuskers Line

Outclassed by a heavier eleven that took advantage of all breaks, the Washington Union high school football team lost its first game of the season to Gilroy high school Friday afternoon by a 26 to 0 count. The contest was played at Gilroy.

Coach Jess Regli's men were unable to stop the Gilroy attack which netted three touchdowns during the first half. The Cornhuskers stiffened in the latter period and allowed their opponents to cross into scoring turf for only one touchdown.

James Booras at center was the outstanding star for the Washingtonians. His ability at diagnosing the enemy's plays and stopping the line smashing of the Gilroy backs was instrumental in preventing even a larger score. In the backfield, Jack Coley displayed potentialities and undoubtedly will be heard from as the season progresses.

The Washington eleven will play their first game at home Friday afternoon (tomorrow) when they face the strong Manteca high aggregation at Centerville. Manteca comes with the reputation of having a heavier and faster team than Gilroy, but Coach Regli has been busy this week revamping his eleven into a squad which he hopes will provide some stiff opposition for the visitors.

Two of the regulars, Joe Soit and Kato, have been lost to the team on account of ineligibility, and Joe Rodrigues, another mainstay, will be missing from the game due to injuries.

Starting Washington line-up Friday was: Booras, center; Wilson and Soit, guards; H. Harrold and Sinclair, tackles; Rivers and Rodrigues, ends; Grimmer, quarter; Gronley and Ed Rose, halves; and F. Mederios, fullback.

The same kind of faith, courage and confidence that guided and sustained Washington, Lincoln and other outstanding Americans through periods of stress and storm is surely, if not rapidly leading this nation back to rational thinking and acting.

Through the newspapers, and other effective media, Bank of America continues to send out constructive messages of encouragement and confidence to the people of California — messages based not on theories, but on fundamental facts.

MUSICAL RECITAL TO FEATURE MANY TOWNSHIP ARTISTS

Entertaining Program Is Slated for Friday Night, Oct. 7

With a talented array of nearly fifty of the best Washington township has to offer in the way of youthful musical artists on the program, one of the most entertaining evenings of the year is in store for the public Friday night, October 7, when Oliver Campos and pupils present their fifth annual recital in the Washington Union high school auditorium at Centerville.

Those taking part have been practicing faithfully under Campos during the last three weeks, and the musical presentation this year is slated to draw more acclaim from the audience than last year when a huge crowd was highly delighted and charmed by the program.

The singing and tap dancing of little Jimmy Callon, talented star on the Orpheum circuit, will again feature the program this year. Callon's performance last year drew vigorous applause from everyone attending the recital.

As in the past both classical and popular numbers are on the program for the evening. Lovers of classical musical productions will be charmed by the rendition of such numbers as "Hungarian Rhapsody," "Zampa," "Triumpale March," while popular music enthuiasts will be delighted with the able presentation of "We Just Couldn't Say Goodbye, "Shanty Town," Twelfth Street Rag," "Rain, Rain, Go Away," and many others.

Campos has promised something entirely unique and different in the motif for this year's recital which is expected to add much to the enjoyment of the affair. Entrancing Hawaiian atmosphere will predominate with "On the Beach at Waikiki" as the scene.

With the exception of Jimmy Callon, all those taking part in the program are Washington township boys and girls. There will be no admission charge.

The following will take part in the program: Mabel Lewis, Gordon Graybill, Murl Hurley, Dorothy Silver, Eldora Perry, Mae Egan, Marjorie Perry, Eleanor Roderick, Peggy Whitfield, Oscar Niemeth, Esther Jason, Jeannette Silva, Jack Stevenson, Allen Hirsch, Muriel Martin, Maurice Silva, Natalie Campos, Donald Flores, Adelaide Martin.

Editorial Comment

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

less and vile crook had been set free. A pretense was made to bring him back, but it was only a gesture, and the man is now living in luxury—as the result of his thievery—in a foreign capital, and in his wake there still remains destruction, with homeless people who lost their all in his fake enterprises.

Our criticism of the board has not been blanket criticism, but that of particular incidents, where powerful or rich convicts have been paroled under very suspicious circumstances.

We believe in fair play. We would not close the door of hope to any man, however low he may have sunk. Our desire is to see the friendless convict upon the same footing as the man of wealth who transgresses the laws of California.

We believe that a man who is ignorant, whose environment has been anything but conducive of cultural attainments, is not so great a criminal when he robs a service station or a pedestrian on a dark street, as the educated man of society who robs hundreds through the confidence that they reposed in him because of his honored place in the business and social world.

Take this man A. I. Lasker, Los Angeles financier. He wrecked the Lasker corporation and stole $100,000 of its funds. Many frugal and industrious people went down with the failure, ruined maybe forever. Last week the parole board turned him loose. He had been sentenced in 1930 to fifteen to fifty years in San Quentin. He served two years and one month. Now that does not look quite right. Rolph says the parole was "regular." Perhaps it was "regular." Why not? The board makes its own rules, though perhaps circumscribed somewhat by legislative action—but not much.

To a man on the sidelines, it looks like Lasker's wealth and influential friends turned the trick. The board didn't hold it against the man that he stole $100,000, and ruined hundreds of people. The fact that Lasker was a man of education and powerful connections, apparently had weight and influence with the parole board. So he is free. By and by, when everything quiets down and the incident is forgotten, Lasker may succeed in unearthing a little small change that he saved from the wreck of the Lasker corporation. Just now, of course, he is officially broke. An object of pity, a chastened man.

Boy, page Mr. Bessemeyer. His case next!

Pretty Soft, We'll Say!

This is a great time to see America, from a side door pullman! When the writer was a tourist printer and a very young man with a very bad case of wanderlust, it was a science to beat one's way on freight trains, and a real art to get by on the "blinds" of the fast mail. But we did it. Every division point was alive with "bulls." At the risk of a broken leg, the tourist of that day dropped off the train while she was going thirty miles an hour rather that enter the freight yards at a division point. Now the boys sit serenely on the top of a boxcar, with all their worldly possessions with them, viewing the landscape while enroute through the rural districts, and when they get into town, they continue to sit majestically on their scenic perch, surveying the hamlet and the townspeople, reading proof on 'em, or maybe deigning to wave them a friendly greeting.

Pretty soft, we'll say.

NILES SCHOOL NINE WINS ALVARADO CONTEST

Holding their opponents to only one tally and collecting ten counters for themselves, the Niles grammar school baseball nine was victorious over the Alvarado school tossers in a five-inning contest played on the Niles grounds Tuesday of last week.

Although beginning a little wild, Reno Quarteroli, stellar Niles pitcher, steadied down as the game progressed and baffled the Alvarado boys with his slants. Alvarado scored their only tally when Quarteroli walked in a run when bases were loaded.

Joe Rebello was the hitting star for the Niles boys, cracking out three hits in four trips to the plate, one of them being a clout that went over the right field fence for a home run. No one was on the bases at the time. John Berchem and Julius Pine, new players on the Niles team, also showed ability at connecting with the ball.

Quarteroli and Rebello formed the Niles battery, while Andrade and Goularte was the battery for Alvarado. A return game will be played Thursday afternoon (today) at Alvarado.

The lineup for the Niles boys was John Berchem, left field; Julius Pine, third base; Joe Oliveria, short stop; Rebello, catcher; Tony Correa, center field; Smiles Martinez, second; Anthony Vargas, first; Geno Quarteroli, right field; and R. Quarteroli, pitcher.

Reiterating the code of ethics of Lionism and bringing to the Pleasanton den the greetings of the district governor, J. Giraud, deputy district governor, addressed the Pleasanton Lions at their meeting at Pleasanton last week. Giraud outlined the program of activities for the coming year and complimented the members of the organization on the work they have performed in the past.

Among the visitors at the gathering were Joseph Schenone, tail twister of the Livermore den, Roadmaster Robert Blacow, of Pleasanton, and County Engineer George Wilhelm. Wilhelm gave an interesting talk about the various engineering projects about to be undertaken in Alameda county. Public Speaking Night Class Meets at Pleasanton

Pros and Cons of Horse Racing in Pleasanton Under Fire

Members of the Amador high school evening class in public speaking showed no evidence of stage fright in their practice contests last week, according to E. O. McCormick, instructor.

While the forum speakers advocating horse racing for Pleasanton may solve the unemployment problem, give the farmers a market for hay, and give our community an exclusive advertisement to attract people of culture and means to establish new homes there; there were speakers on the opposition who painted pictures of an exodus of upright citizens from that community if the enterprise were to be established.

The next meeting of the class will offer the opportunity for the two groups to readjust the proposals and enter into a compromise which may permit each group to proceed with its program of promotion and control of horse racing.

There were twenty at the meeting last Tuesday. This class meets every Tuesday evening from seven-thirty until nine-thirty.

McCormick urges all those in Individual instruction is given at the community who wish to enter the class to do so at any time. each class meeting to aid in the construction of the speech so that one who has missed the first few classes may get enough knowledge to make a speech.

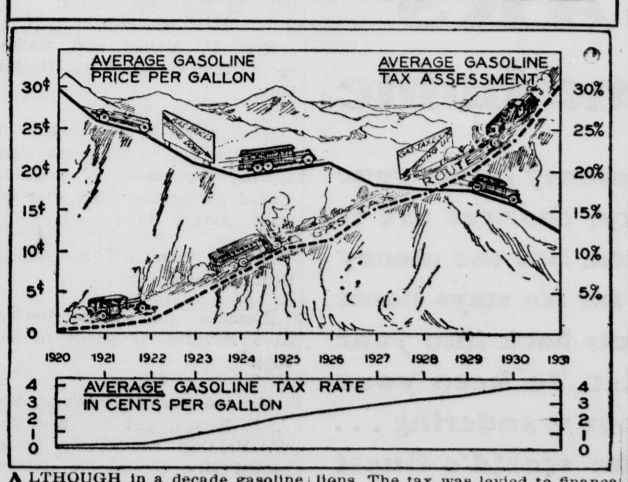
GASOLINE TAX RATES SOAR AS PRICE IS CUT IN HALF



ALTHOUGH in a decade gasoline prices have been halved, motorists are unable to take full advantage of the bargain because state gasoline taxes increase the cost nearly one-third.

Records of the American Petroleum Institute show that in 1920 prices in 50 representative cities, at least one in each state, averaged 29.74c per gallon. State taxes averaged .09c per gallon, an average assessment of .3% on the retail price. At the beginning of 1932 prices averaged only 13c, but tax rates averaged 4c, making the cost to motorists 17c per gallon and the average assessment 30.8%, or nearly one-third of the retail price.

In 1920 state tax rates were only 1c and 2c per gallon. Now they range from 2c to 7c. Counties and communities impose additional taxes, the pyramided levies running as high as 9½c. Although two-thirds of the states now impose taxes of 4c or more, increases in their rates have been proposed. A federal gasoline tax of at least 1c per gallon has been mentioned.

Gasoline tax revenues have soared from around $4,000,000 in 1920 to an estimated $525,000,000 in 1931, the counties and communities garnering additional millions. The tax was levied to finance good roads, but revenue is diverted to schools, text books, fish hatcheries, oyster farms, state buildings and projects, unemployment relief, governmental expenses, pensions, salaries, etc.

Revenues, while enormous, never have kept pace with tax rates. Higher rates, invoking the law of diminishing returns, have encouraged the filing of claims for tax refunds, many of them fraudulent and in some states absorbing 40% of income. Rates above 2c per gallon have made tax evasion sufficiently lucrative to support the operations of racketeers who, by gasoline bootlegging, bribery, forgery, intimidation and, among other means, sale of inferior and often harmful fuels and lubricants, take as their profits gasoline tax revenues estimated as high as $100,000,000.

Information reaching the Institute from investigators in more than 15 states indicates that unless taxes are reduced to a uniform rate near 2c, uniform tax laws are passed and fully enforced, and the expenditure of revenue is confined to highways, the "fastest growing tax in history" may become the greatest tax scandal in history.

CLUB WOMEN HOLD AN OLD TIME QUILTING BEE IN PLEASANTON

Quilt Given Away at Card Party Wednesday Night

Several Members of the Pleasanton Women's Improvement club got together and held an old fashioned sewing bee and quilted a quilt cover, donated to the club by Mrs. M. M. Lopez recently.

The women commenced the quilt at about three o'clock and were through by about five-thirty. All the quilting was done by hand, and when completed, the quilt was a wonderful piece of work. It was given away as an award at the club's card party last Wednesday. After the quilt had been completed the women enjoyed refreshments.

Those who did the quilting were Mrs. A. B. Pickard, Mrs. Claude Smallwood, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. M. M. Lopez, Mrs. Paul Pelle, Mrs. J. B. Lee, Mrs. Charles Graham, Mrs. Edna Harris, Mrs. Mary Stovall, and Mrs. Mabel Rosa, all of Pleasanton.

It's true. You can actually go to Chicago on Southern Pacific, in coaches or reclining chair cars, for $40.

You might save a dollar or two at first by choosing some other form of travel. But the train gets you there hours, or even days sooner—and time saved is money saved.
